Dear Colleagues and friends,

The three previous meetings were held in Angers (France) on June 7-8th 2009, September 1st-2nd 2011 and June 5-6th 2014. At the end of our last meeting, it was decided to organize a forth meeting in 2017 and to change the venue to Spain. Presentations will cover all topics: Clinical aspects, antifungal susceptibility and treatment, pathogenesis, Identification, diagnosis, epidemiology, ecology, typing, characterization and taxonomy.

As always, we would like to have as many speakers as possible. Our objective is to overview all our activities since our last meeting, but new members in our working group of course will be welcome. A special attention will be paid to presentations from PhD students and joint projects within our members. Presentation of projects searching for partners is also encouraged.
